COVID-19 FREE EDUCATIONAL RESOURCES

Below you can find a series of educational resources for teachers, non-academic staff, and students to help them navigate the challenges unleashed by the COVID-19 pandemic.

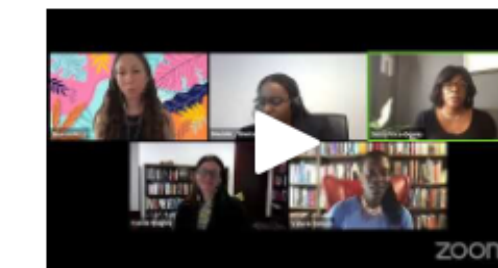

An increasing number of educational institutions are closing their campuses as a precautionary measure in the face of the pandemic, transforming the way we work, learn, teach, and live. We encourage you to follow the guidelines and procedures established by your institution that when preparing your academic transition from campus to online following educational resources, courses, guides, webinars, conferences, experiences and much more, remain useful to you.
